

Access to Remdesivir in the Community

Remdesivir is available to patients in the community through Home and Community Care Support Services (HCCSS). Prescribers in hospitals or in the community can refer a patient to their local HCCSS branch for a nurse to administer Remdesivir infusions. Prescribers must complete the appropriate referral form(s) and submit to their local HCCSS. A HCCSS care coordinator will follow up with the patient.

In most cases, patients will receive infusions at a community nursing clinic; at-home service may be provided for patients who are not eligible for nursing clinics. Pharmacies that have an agreement with HCCSS can dispense the medication. Referral forms and supporting documents for each HCCSS region are listed in the table below.
