As Ontario’s fourth largest Community Care Access Centre (CCAC), the Mississauga Halton CCAC provides clinical assessments and health care at home services to children and adult to help them recover at home, live safely at home or move to a long-term care home.

The Mississauga Halton CCAC serves more than one million residents in South Etobicoke, Mississauga, Oakville, Halton Hills and Milton.

Our Vision
Outstanding care - every person, every day.

Our Mission
To deliver a seamless experience through the health system for people in our diverse communities, providing equitable access, individualized care coordination and quality health care.

What is the Home Independence program?

Our Home Independence program helps you to achieve your best long-term independence and quality of life. If you are facing challenges with activities, such as bathing and dressing, we can help you return to independence. Through support and education, we will help you regain skills and confidence so you can live as independently as possible, minimizing your need for ongoing support.

Is the Home Independence Program right for you?

The Home Independence program is open to people of all ages, but is designed primarily for adults who:

- Want to remain independent in their own homes
- Are experiencing some difficulties performing their daily activities required to live independently, such as bathing and dressing
- Are willing to be active in their own care
- Would benefit from learning more about how to remain independent

How does the Home Independence program work?

A team of dedicated health and service experts will provide you with the skills and tools to return to and maintain your independence. Personal support workers and rehabilitation professionals will work with you in your home for up to 50 days.

How much does it cost?

All Mississauga Halton CCAC services, including those provided through this program, are covered by the provincial health insurance plan for those holding a valid Ontario Health Card. Patients are responsible for purchasing specialized in-home equipment, for example bath grab bars, if required.
