KEYNOTE SPEAKER: Dr. Wayne Taylor will provide highlights of his newest research—"Finding Canada's Healthcare Equilibrium" where he compares Canadian and Austrian health care systems. Learning from Austria, he provides compelling recommendations on how Canada can restructure the health care system to better balance quality, access and costs.

Dr. Taylor is an internationally recognized speaker, educator and consultant in health policy, strategic management, governance, and business-government relations. Wayne served as the founding Director of the M.B.A. Program in Health Services Management at the DeGroote School of Business, McMaster University and was named 'Professor of the Year' nine times at three different universities. His research includes better understanding the democratic deficit that is permeating Canadian healthcare. Dr. Taylor has provided consulting for health care organizations, governments, politicians and Fortune 1000 companies in Canada, the United States and Europe.
